POINT STANDINGS include all shows from December 1, 2004 through June 15, 2005. Please check the listing carefully. If you have any questions on Breeds or Saddle Seat Equitation, call Carmen Larson at 860-231-1190. For all other questions, write to George Jensen, 195 Wildwood Drive, Cheshire, CT, 06410, email at jaycyn195@cox.net or call him on Tuesdays or Thursdays from 7 to 9 PM at 203-272-0142. All points listed here, unless corrected, will become final on JULY 18, 2005. RULE BOOKS HAVE BEEN MAILED OR HANDED OUT. IF YOU HAVE NOT RECEIVED YOUR BOOK IN A WEEK, LET ME KNOW AT jaycyn195@cox.net

WHY SHOWS CHARGE POST ENTRY FEES
(Dedicated to all show secretaries who should be nominated for sainthood)

For those of you competitors who have never secretaried a show, you have no idea how much clerical work is involved. Sometimes, important information is missing and this will have to be added before the number can be picked up. Assign competition number(s), then this information has to be 'posted' on each of the class (or division) sheets, exhibitor/horse name, etc. They are then added to a master list for the announcer to read when the results are called in.

The majority of shows on the Connecticut circuit do not require that you pay for your classes when you send in your entry form. You don't have to pay until show day when you pick up your number. SO ENTER AHEAD!!! Many wait until the weather forecast is set for the weekend – say Wednesday. Enter then, fax, snail mail, anything. Don't wait until Friday afternoon, then complain that you can't get your fax in or the number is busy – or 101 other reasons.

Even with one cut-off day, it sometimes takes Secretaries all day to post the entries. Then if 40 post entries come on show day, the lines are out the door. Those who pre-entered are stuck in line while others who are entering on the spot – may not be sure which classes they want to go in, etc.

When the show starts – heaven forbid you are in an early class – you could still be stuck in line waiting to get a number! The gate person and the judge have no idea how many competitors are in each class – when to close the gate? Wait? Start, the class? People miss classes, get cross with the gate-keeper who had no idea how many to expect, and then everyone gets cranky.

And time marches on! Lots of post entries add time to the show. Everyone wants to show and go. Late posts could add as much as an hour to the length of the show!

Everybody likes some recognition when they place in a class. When the Announcer states: "I am afraid I have no information on that number" it is a dead give-away that this entry didn't make the class sheet. In fact, at a show last month 72 entries came in late Saturday for a Sunday show, and it took the secretary the entire show day to catch up, consequently, no winner's names were announced – just numbers.

Management has to know how to staff the show, whether or not to hire extra secretaries to just post the new entries. This is why managers charge extra for post entries. Some charge only $10, some $20. What ever it takes to make exhibitors to enter in advance. You don't have to pay in advance. They just need to get the information into the system. If this is done, adding or dropping a class is a piece of cake, comparatively.

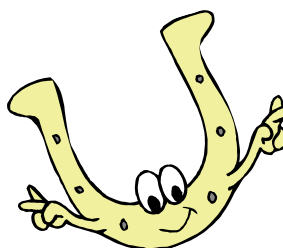

Remember, at these local shows, if you don't show – you don't have to pay!

Moral of the story:

OUR NEW ELECTRONIC AGE

Back in the dark ages when the CHSA members were apprised of their points by the ATC and snail-mail folks were content to wait for the mail – once a month usually. Now that we have entered the 21st century – with our own web site (chsaonline.com) people can't get their information and points fast enough.

For your information:

1. Shows have 10 days in which to send in their results.
2. It takes the Points & Membership Person (who does not work full-time for CHSA, may we point out) a couple of days to sort, and verify members and horses and input the results. This sometimes necessitates contacting the shows for clarification of results.
3. These results are then emailed to the Web-Master, Larry Schwartz, a CHSA volunteer, who, at his convenience, inserts them onto the web page.
4. So, just be patient.

HAVE YOU CHECKED OUT
chsaonline.com?

If you haven't, please do! Thanks to our webmaster, Larry Schwartz, results of shows will be posted on line about once a week. You will be able to find your points faster than distribution by mail.

As a result, the ATC will go to a bi-monthly publishing schedule. Eventually, we will probably go to a quarterly publishing schedule.
